

“The Extreme Principle: What Matters Most, What Works Best”: Keen J. Babbage; copyright 2011; Rowman & Littlefield Education; Lanham, Maryland; 183 pages. 1-800-462-6420. rowmaneducation.com

Welcome to our session on “The Extreme Principle: What Matters Most, What Works Best”. The spelling of principle is intentional; however, you can be confident that a school principal can apply The Extreme Principle. In fact, the principle was designed for all educators, including principals!

1. What ideas and/or actions do you expect this session to emphasize ?

2. What is the one specific question you hope to get answered in this session?

3. How would the people listed below answer these two questions:

	What matters most?	What works best?
People you work with
Politicians
Citizens/taxpayers
School administrators
Teachers
Classified staff
You

